ATTORNEY AT LAW

AILO, HAWAII.

IS IT A MATTER OF TIME?

What Was Considered Modest and Proper a Hundred Years Ago.

Modesty, as has often been said, may almost be considered a matter of time and place. In the time of George III of England, though the drapery was of the seamstress, it was not considered delicate or refined to uncover the forehead. Some young ladies who had been abroad were considered bold looking because they wore their hair Madonna fashion. Ladies not in la premiere jeunesse very generally wore wigs. The princesses had their heads shaved and wore wigs ready dressed and decorated for the evening to save time for the toilet.
Widows almost always shaved their heads. Lady Murray says her mother's beautiful hair was cut off for her deep mourning, and she never wore anything but a wig in after years.

At Windsor castle in those days luncheon was not, as it is now, a general meal. Each lady had a chicken, a plate of fruit and a bottle of king's cup (the peel of a lemon put to soak for some hours in cold water and then sweetened with sugar) brought to her room every day. Those were the days for servants' perquisites. On all the highest saints' days a tinsel cross of divers colors was placed on the tables of the ladies or sent to their residences, and a guinea was understood to be due in return. A bottle of wine every two days and unnecessary wax candles were the perquisites of the ladies' maids.

Candles were extinguished as soon as the ladies were carried off by servants. Pages were seen marching out before the royal family with a bottle of wine sticking out of each pocket, and the state page called regularly upon each person who attended the drawing rooms, with his book, to receive the accustomed gratuity.
The ladies in waiting then wore the Windsor uniform, which is at present confined to the gentlemen attendants.
It was a blue cloth habit, not long, as worn for riding, but the length of a gown, with buttons having a star surrounded with the motto, "Honi soit qui mal y pense" and a scarlet collar. — New York Herald.

Hat Shooting.

A visitor in Pass Christian, Miss., the other day heard some pistol shots and asked a negro boy what they meant.
"Oh," was the reply, "them fellows dun be shootin' fo' hats." "Shooting for hats!" exclaimed the visitor, "what on earth do you mean?" "Sure, dere is nuffin strange 'bout dat. They's doin it every day 'most. When de train is comin, day jes' fires dem shots when she gets good on to de bridge, an de men day sticks dere heads out to see what's up, an de wind jes' takes dere hats off an drops 'em in de bay. Den dey rows around an picks 'em up. Sometimes day gets a lot of 'em. Other day Josh Johnson got seben." "What does Josh Johnson do besides shoot for hats?" was asked. "Oh, he fishes an does odd jobs an lives." —New York Tribune.

Footed the Bills.

Francis W. Bird, the Sage of Walpole, once went to see Dr. S. G. Howe and found him with his feet swathed in flannels and extended on a chair.
"Howe, what is the matter?" he asked.
"I have got the gout," said Howe.
"You have got the gout—such a temperance man as you." "Yes, Bird, my ancestors drank wine, and I have to foot the bills." —Boston Transcript.

In former times chapels were commonly built on bridges at the entrance of towns and villages, but the custom has long since fallen into disuse, and very few of these structures remain today. One of the best existing specimens may be seen at Rotherham. It stands on the bridge crossing the Don and was built in 1483. Leland mentions it in 1550.

BY POLICE AT CALLAO.

Inquiry here confirms the story coming from Lima to the effect that the State Department has lodged a demand with the United States charge of legation at Lima for the release of the mate of the American bark "Uncle John." He was ashore on December 19 last at Callao, and was arrested because of his constant demand for "Rainier Beer." On tap or in bottles at the Criterion Saloon.
